Blend provide an expert leadership, training and coaching resource for individuals in leadership positions and their teams. Initially created to support NHS staff leading through the Covid19 pandemic; we are now continuing to support a range of health/social care/charity and education organisations to improve, adapt and lead their workforce into the future.

Working with your chosen coach/leadership practitioner, will enable you to explore and better understand the context in which you are working, sift through issues and challenges, and agree and prioritise next steps. We can help you to enhance your strengths and seize opportunities. It is also a safe environment to decompress and recognise that 'it's ok not to feel ok'. We have coaches who can also offer individual and team psychometrics and PROPHET executive team profiling tool.
